25 Years of Prayer and Work

Today the parish celebrates my 25th anniversary of ordination to the priesthood. It makes me feel somewhat nostalgic. As I look over these years of priestly service to the Church, I see two elements are present in each day: prayer and work. This theme of life in the church has been traditionally referred to in its Latin expression: ora et labora. Saint Benedict taught his monks that their daily lives in the monastery should be filled with prayer and work.

May I share two special memories from these 25 years which capture some exceptional moments of prayer and work? As an example of a happy memory of prayer, I remember the night that I read the entire Gospel of Luke! I was on retreat and woke up at about 2:00 am. I felt led to the retreat chapel where I started reading the Gospel of Luke before the Blessed Sacrament. In a little over three hours, I completed the book and went back to bed. I skipped breakfast so that I could sleep in! As an example of a happy memory of the work of being a priest, I remember a couple whose wedding I did in Fort Morgan. During marriage preparation, the topic of natural family planning arose. I had to work to convince the couple that they should not contracept and that they should accept each child as a gift from God. Today they have a happy family with 5 children... all girls!

BLESS YOU & THANK YOU to all who made this year's picnic a Fun-Filled Success!

It takes lots of planning, energy and many hands to produce a major event such as The St. Jude Picnic: We can't THANK all the workers enough!

- Putting up the Big Tent, and taking it down
- Loading and unloading the big truck with chairs and tables
- Setting up and then taking down all the tables, chairs and tents

Many folks brought delicious dishes and desserts for the food court and delightful cakes for the fun cakewalk; we THANK YOU! And to the many who worked the picnic, helped in the kitchen, manned the tables and booths, created signs and bulletins, you made the Lord smile and He was pleased with our community gathering.

We would like to THANK all of you and are so very GRATEFUL to the community of individuals and businesses that contributed to the picnic's great success.
